

Unemployment Insurance Exemption

NOTICE

The Rocky Mountain Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and all of its subordinates, including churches, schools and other entities, is a religious, non-profit organization and therefore, not liable for the tax imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) or under any state programs regarding unemployment.

Employees employed by the Rocky Mountain Conference or any of its subordinates/local entities are not eligible for unemployment benefits based on wages paid by this organization.

For questions or additional information, please contact the Human Resources office at 303-282-3610 or your local unemployment insurance office.