The LIFT is Continuing to LIFT the Community! »

ACS LIFT is turning things around with a new look (thanks to Lowe's Home Improvement) and renewed enthusiasm. While our future at times appeared tentative, God is providing a way to continue the mission of caring for the underserved in the Metro-Denver area.

Opened in 1951, ACS has been in continuous operation, serving up to 350 people per week, according to Navanta Antoine-Griffith, administrative assistant and bookkeeper for Director Deborah Jackson.

According to Navanta, Rebuilding Together, a non-profit organization, is teaming up with Lowe's Home Improvement to refurbish the facility, giving them new showers, new flooring, and remodeled classrooms. The Denver Post covered the remodeling activities with more than 100 volunteers involved in the project. The open house will celebrate the new facility.

The LIFT provides high-quality, free medical care and medication to those who are uninsured and underinsured. In addition, the LIFT provides free healthy food through the third largest food bank in Colorado. Finally, we offer basic needs assistance for individuals in crisis, such as the homeless. Our mission, "Helping people reach their fullest God-given potential," is achieved through core services in three focus areas: food security, medical services, and family/individual support. Programs we operate include:

- A food bank that offers clients a wide variety of foods, including fresh fruits and vegetables
- Healthy eating and cooking information and demonstrations
- Gardening classes that teach how to grow healthy food
- Energy assistance (support for paying utilities), including a mandatory class on Finances 101, which teaches the basics of financial planning and budgeting for things like rent, utilities and food
- Showers and basic hygiene supplies for homeless individuals
- Transportation assistance through bus tokens
- Medical clinic services, including primary care, lab work and medications
- Assistance in enrolling in health coverage programs and medication assistance programs
- Referrals to other community support and services

Read the comments of Maria Elena, age 39 and laid-off, single mother of three: "I came to the food bank because my unemployment came in and put me $15 over the limit for food stamps for my family. This is unlike any other food bank I've seen. Other ones give you maybe one box of food which is usually spoiled produce. What an insult to a human being struggling!

But at ACS, they have a mini-grocery store with carts and you can pick your foods by carbs, proteins, etc.," explains Maria. "They even have fresh milk and grow their own produce on site! Anyway, I was treated with kindness and made to feel welcome."

We are here to help our clients get the critical assistance they need, offering them physical, emotional and spiritual support, teaching them how to make healthy life decisions and focus on wellness, and giving them "whole person" medical care, explains Deborah.

All of these services take resources. To continue to provide this much needed work, we need YOU to support your organization through donations, volunteering and prayer.

Any amount of money will help. You can go to our website at www.ACSlift.org or mail your donation to: ACS LIFT, 5045 West 1st Avenue, Denver CO 80219.

ACS LIFT is planning an open house for visitors on Sunday, April 17 (see announcement below). [ACS Management Team, Staff and Volunteers]

Over the past year, VOP has grown even more robust, with 35 full-time employees and four more to come (visit vop.com/jobs if you'd like to apply).

Internationally, the ministry is providing a safe home for young girls rescued from human trafficking in India, building a much-needed church in the Arctic, and reaching 120 countries in 80 languages through the DISCOVER Bible School.

Closer to home, VOP's "future-proof" recording studio has been completed and Shawn and Jean Boonstra's new Disclosure broadcast is on the air (listen at vop.com).

In addition, a major nationwide event is just around the corner! From April 28-30, Shadow Empire will shed light on the issue of religious liberty while exploring the life of Constantine the Great. Summer Camp Staff Prepare for Influx of Campers »
We are gearing up for another summer camp season at both of our camps here in the Rocky Mountain Conference -- Glacier View Ranch in Ward, Colorado and Mills Spring Ranch in Casper, Wyoming.
To date, we have a record number of campers registering -- almost 400!
God is truly blessing us with an extraordinary staff coming from Colorado, Wyoming, Tennessee, Texas, and even California. They are already praying for the campers who will grace us with their presence in a matter of months.
Campers are chomping at the bit to come back this summer. A teen camper last summer stated, "I'm a changed person. I'm glad I had such an unforgettable experience." A junior camper said, "Best time of MY Life!!" And a cub camper shared, "I loved all of the GVR staff because everyone was so kind."
