NEWS NUGGETS

A Lighthouse for Fort Morgan » Our newest school in the Rocky Mountain Conference is the Lighthouse SDA Christian School in Fort Morgan, Colo. It is already operating at capacity, with 18 students for the current school year and a waiting list for next year's attendance. Jodie Aakko, the head teacher and principal, sent an article that is posted here on the conference website. The school also received publicity in the local Fort Morgan Times.

Satellite Ministry comes to Durango » Troy Osborn of the Durango SDA Church recently accepted the challenge and successfully installed a satellite dish for a woman who wanted to receive Adventist programming in her home. Next, he identified 11 families in his church who wanted a satellite dish.

He contacted Keith Parris, leader of the Satellite Ministry of the Twin Peaks SDA Church. That ministry serves the entire Rocky Mountain Conference, providing information on the Twin Peaks website, as well as training and technical support. It has provided training and satellite systems for more than 30 churches in the conference so far.

By purchasing satellite systems in bulk, a Glorystar system, which would normally cost $199 plus $40 shipping, can be obtained in the Rocky Mountain Conference for $150.

Troy made a trip to Denver, and Keith met him there with a load of satellite systems. Troy will install them, providing a spiritual blessing for his church members.
